

There is a central pulse to the universe that beats a rhythm into our being whether we are listening or not. It contains everything that we are and knows all our heartbeats as one. It is who we are when we stop pretending to be something else. The Energy for the Devil book will introduce you to this side of yourself. You will also learn the intrigue of your own deception and gain the tools that will allow you to re-center your objectives on the one truth that includes all.
