

THE HAIRDRYER CHRONICLES

Chapter 4 ...work in progress

- The red line represents a movement disappearing out of time.
- The white dots represent the movement trapped in time.

TIME CAPSULE

Planck's constant is eternity inside out for the least time.

Planck described the universe as the secondary effect of one energy packet (capsule) disappearing out of time ad infinitum.

The proof of this is found less in Planck's precise mathematics than it is in the backlash that was unleashed against his personal life.

To understand the reason for this one must consider the movement as a singularity and seek its cause:

The movement was preceded by the resistance that caused it – it can be no other way!

Resistance is a condition of objection and to object one must think and before thinking there had to be the thought that caused it (cause and effect).

Thinking is the movement of thought.

Planck's time capsule is the smallest particle of matter with the ability to be everywhere at once.

Thought is the antithesis of God, seeking to realize itself in energy.

It protects its fiefdom by attacking all that pose a threat.

Planck's constant is a time capsule controlled by Thought.

THOUGHT

“As careful attention shows, thought itself is an actual process of movement.” – David Bohm.

Thought is intrinsic to thinking; one is the movement of the other.

Thinking rotates the Planck movement to produce the universe as secondary issue.

All forms of output are archetypes of the original prototype - take any archetype apart - from a whisper to a hairdryer to a computer program and you will find a single cycle rotating to produce output.

Thinking vibrates the Planck movement to produce the universe as secondary issue.

Thought controls the process.

“There is no thinker apart from thought; thought has made the thinker.” – Krishnamurthi.
