

ALGORITHM

All as one we disturbed the peace of heaven.

Resistance to eternity was an inside job for eternity knows no other.

The disturbance engaged an eternal twist, an energy that dies instantly.

The time it took for the twist to happen was the measure of its energy.

Eternal recurrence is a perpetual energy generator accumulating time for the universe to exist.

The eternal twist is singular.

The above describes the universal generator.

~

All as one we are everywhere at once orchestrating our resistance.

The algorithms of life are the patterns of thinking we aspire to, little knowing that the sum of thinking is all as one.

We cannot escape our deception – we can only become aware of it.

This is the test.
